ABSTRACT	The area concerning disability needs to be modernized with new knowledge and solutions. Therefore, a Welfare Laboratory has been established in order to develop new methods, technology and management. The Welfare Laboratory is targeted at people experiencing severe physical disability, mostly living in assisted living facilities. A selected panel of experts from the city will collaborate to identify holistic solutions to improve welfare standards and to build their resilience to potential shocks or stresses. Co-creation is a significant element of the Welfare Laboratory ethos. In the Welfare Laboratory there are 8 prototypes being tested, and one of them is a community play called "Shine" where people with and without disabilities produces a play together.
