ABSTRACT	The 2015 edition of the Camp Management Toolkit represents the most comprehensive guidance for those engaged in camp responses to displacement. The toolkit provides guidelines that serve as practical support for national authorities, national and international humanitarian actors, as well as internally displaced persons and refugees involved in camp management. The overall goal of Camp Management actors is to improve living conditions during displacement, while advocating and preparing for durable solutions and planning for the closure of camps.
